What is a module?

Modules are academic units for courses and examinations

• A module usually consists of:

    ▪ The examination, i.e. a written exam
  – The module „Fraunhofer Lab“ consists of:
    ▪ A lab course offered by Fraunhofer
      - Not explicit examination as a lab course is basically a practical exam with milestones and deliverables
  – E.g. the module „Technical Writing“ consists of:
    ▪ A block-course: lecture with integrated exercises
    ▪ An examination, i.e. a written exam
